Tennyson Smith Here.

Beginning last Friday night Tennyson Smith, the great English temperance evangelist, gave a series of talks at Assembly Hall, and though it rained and was very cold, the meetings were very well attended and all were well pleased that heard him. Tuesday night the "Trial of Alcohol" was given to a very good house. Mr. Smith took the part of counsel for prosecution, and other parts were taken by some of our leading citizens and will say that all did well from the staid judge, the counsel for defense, the high sheriff, the witnesses and the jury, even to the prisoner. It taught a grand lesson to all who heard the speeches delivered at the trial.

The W. C. T. U. and the committee who had the management of the meetings are to be thanked for securing Mr. Smith for our city.

For State Senator 1st District.

In this issue we announce Hon. J. M. Terrell's candidacy for re-election to the State Senate for this the 1st District, subject to the action of the Democratic primary. His record for the unexpired term of Senator Wilson, deceased, shows that he is a man who will look well to the interest for betterment of laws in his district and the State. Senator Terrell states that one of the most important matters—and one for which he shall work for, is that for natural development of Texas, and that later on he will be glad to tell the people how he stands on many important issues. Now he wishes to succeed himself as in the old democratic rule, and asks the careful consideration of his claims by the democratic voters at the July primary.

The members of the Gen. Dick Taylor Camp, U. C. V., who attended the unveiling ceremonies of the Confederate monument last Friday at Marshall are:

Col. G. W. L. Dawson, Com., Capt. Geo. T. Todd, Adj., Davis Biggs, J. A. Feidler, Col. G. W. Keene, Dr. A. G. Clopton, E. H. Dobbins, Capt. R. Ballauf, W. H. Erambert, Sr., W. C. Jones, W. F. Driskell, J. R. Taylor, J. B. Whitfield, J. N. Thomas, Z. Dougherty, W. H. Mason, Judge Mima R. F. B. Woods, Rev. Woodson, and W. E. Singleton. They report a fine time while in Marshall. In the parade Mr. Jno. A. Feidler had with him his little grandson, "Booby" Parker, who is the youngest confederate of the camp. A number of other citizens went over to the unveiling but we failed to get their names.

A Pleasant Occasion.

The Junior League was entertained Saturday evening, the 20th, at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Smith from 2 until 5 p. m. All the Leaguers were present, and, my! how the little folks did enjoy themselves by playing various games, which were suggested by older ones. Then after all had become weary of playing the refreshments were served which were enjoyed by all, and while they were enjoying the feast Mrs. Woodson talked to them about the League and its work, and we sincerely hope that each one will take an active part in the League work, which will help them in this life and at least have it said, "Well done thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of the Lord."

A LEAGUER.

Moseley, passed away at their home at Smithland last Friday night and the funeral took place Saturday Jan. 20th in the family graveyard. The deceased was preceded just one week by her infant babe of three months, and besides husband, five little children are left, a mother, sister, brothers and other relatives to mourn the sad death of this lovely little woman.

Glen Lumber Co. Dots.

Last Saturday being a nice warm day, Mr. Dodd had his gardner sowing radishes and planting peas, Mr. Correll bossing the job.

After threatening for five or six hours by thunder and lightning, it commenced raining here early Sunday morning and kept it up pretty steady all day. Sometime during Sunday night it commenced snowing and is still snowing, this, Monday evening with the prospect of a very cold night.

Mr. Dodd is in Kansas City this week on business for the company.

It looks to a stranger like this would be a very good field for a book agent to work, especially if they were selling a book on etiquette. A number of these books could be used to good advantage.

Mr. Ed. Dodd left Tuesday for Shreveport with the drive-wheels of "Little George" to have them retired.

Mr. Steelman started for home Monday evening—so he said—but the shadows on the snow told another tale. A large number of mill hands are working the public road by an especial invitation. "So mount it be."

Everybody seems to be having a good time. Why? Guess again.

These items are not very much, but seem to be missed when none appear. You know who.

Big Probate Bond.

Texarkana, Jan. 23.—Two cases have just come before the county judge here for the appointment of administrators. One was that in which Emmet Burke was appointed administrator for the estate of his deceased wife, his bond being fixed at $160,000. The other was that of the administration of the estate of B. G. Hughes, deceased, his widow being appointed, her bond being $60,000. The bond of Mr. Burke is the largest bond ever made in a probate case in Bowie county.

Fireman Ferd Pace, of the M. K. & T. has the distinction of drawing the largest check of any fireman on the Shreveport division of the Katy. Ferd's check was $117.85 for the month of December, which goes to show he is a good fireman and always ready to go when duty calls him.—Greenville Banner.

Mrs. J. B. Whitfield attended the unveiling ceremonies of the Confederate monument in Marshall on the 19th, and was a guest of her daughter, Mrs. A. G. Carter.

Mrs. A. C. Zehner will be here Feb 5th and 6th, to lecture, and all who have head this lady lecture at previous visits, know that a rare treat is in store for them.

We call attention to S. Oppenheim in this issue, who has opened up for business again after the fire of Jan. 1st.
